The scary story

- Once, a teen named Patrick was going to school that was too dark for him and he was not really chill with this but Patrick dealt with this because he needed to go school. Patrick had a friend named Charles and they were best friend and then, they decided to go to school at night to see what's wrong with it.

- Later, at school, a window that teacher forgot to close was opened so the boys went throught it in silence. Inside, there were some camera and the boys didn't want to be seen by the cameras so they covered themselves sheets of papers on them. After that, the two young teenagers started to visit their school.

- When they were at the gym they heard a weird sound. It was coming from the bathroom. There, a door was opened and the sound was like a door clacking. When the boys came in front of it, there was nothing and nobody. They continued to search and they decided to go downstairs to see if the ''monster'' could be there.

- Downstairs, the two friends found blood on the floor and when they raised their heads, they saw a big monster trying to eat them. They ran away and they went to talk to their mom and one year later they changed school and never came back.